PAYMENT SYSTEM FOR AUTOMATIC VENDING MACHINES

Abstract

A payment system for automatic vending machines is characterized in that it comprises at least one micro-

5 processor or electronic chip (10), which can be suitably programmed so as to univocally identify the fingerprints (30) of each user of said machines, by memorization in memory elements (40) and comparison of certain scanning points of their images to effect

10 electronic identification.

15

20

25